University of Biskra

Contribution to the quality of education (Higher Education)

Following Law No. 98-11 of August 22, 1998, on the orientation and program law with a five-year projection on scientific research and technological development; Law No. 99-05 of April 4, 1999, on higher education orientation; Executive Decree No. 219-98 of July 8, 1998, establishing the University of Biskra; and Executive Decrees No. 90-09 of February 17, 2009, and No. 129-14 of April 5, 2014:

- The University of Biskra implements a policy aimed at improving the quality of higher education through various actions, including providing students and faculty with free access to educational resources such as university libraries, the Internet, training workshops, educational laboratories, and research laboratories.
- The university also grants external participants free access to its facilities and equipment. This includes startup project leaders from the university, as well as guests from public and private sectors who participate in training, seminars, workshops, and roundtables. The university provides all necessary resources to support these activities, including rooms, computers, laboratories, and scientific equipment.
- It organizes training programs for managers and employees from other sectors, including refresher courses, advanced courses, and short-term programs.
- The university hosts public events such as open days for high school students and educational visits for middle and primary school students.
- All activities are open to invited participants without distinction of ethnic origin, religion, disability, or gender.
